AMANDA FLORES

DESIGN-DRIVEN FRONTEND DEVELOPER FULL-STACK

Design-driven Frontend Developer with full-stack capabilities, focused on building modern, high-quality web experiences.
I design and develop responsive, visually engaging websites and full-stack applications, with a strong focus on detail, performance, and user experience.
With a background in design, I enjoy combining clean code with thoughtful visuals to create intuitive and engaging digital products.
Currently working as a freelance developer on real client projects.
